Since We Signed With TST, Our Staff No Longer Reports IT Issues

"The best compliment I can give TST is that since we signed with you guys, our staff no longer reports IT issues."

They Understand ENT – Having An IT Partner Like That Is Very, Very Important

"Before partnering with TST, we had too many things on our plate trying to manage tens to hundreds of platforms deployed across the country. Now that's on their plate, not ours, and we don't have to build out a large internal team to do it.

What gives us confidence is knowing we have a safety net: a team of experts who respond rapidly when issues come up and resolve them quickly.

From a budgeting standpoint, knowing what our costs are and being able to account for that ahead of time is huge, versus underestimating what it would cost to hire that expertise ourselves.

If you're a practice owner or CEO considering TST, here's what I'd tell you: they actually understand your business. They understand the business of medicine, they understand ENT and other specialties, and you won't have to spend your time explaining how things work. You already have a partner who understands that, and who fits inside your processes to support you from an IT perspective. Having a partner like that is very, very important."

TST Will Always Be In A Position To Support Our Practice

"TST has freed up my time to focus less on the day-to-day minor issues. Their implementation of best practices for both operational IT management and security has enabled our network to run smoothly without incident and ensure our patient data is protected from breaches.

TST's presence also gives me (and our physician owners) much-needed peace of mind that they will always be in a position to support our practice. I already knew they would take care of us…and they most certainly have."
